of advent as a week of personal denial, and directing that the money so raised be utilized for the support of Mr. Charles H. Evans. the brotherhood missionary to Japan, and also to send out a lay missionary worker as an assistant to Bishop Graves of Shanghal. At 11 o'clock the business session adjourn-ed and the convention at once took up the general conference set for this morning, beginning by singing the hymn, "Jesus Calls Us." Bishop Penick led in prayer.
Dr. S. A. Haynes, rector of St. Paul's Church, Indianapolis, presided over the conference, the subject of which was "Brother-hood Meetings."
Mr. C. M. Curtis, Trinity, Wilmington, Del. read a carefully prepared paper on the Del., read a carefully prepared paper on the subject of "The Meetings of the Chapter," in the course of which he made a number of suggestions as to methods that might be adopted to make these gatherings more interesting, and, at the same time, of more general value to the members themselves. He then went on to outline the work of what he considered an ideal chapter meeting.

"Meetings of the local ascembly" was the "Meetings of the local ascembly" was the subject assigned to Mr. James C. Sellers, Holy Trinity, West Chester, Pa. In his paper he recommended the holding of meetings of this sort in central points, where the greatest assistance would accrue to struggling chapters, especially, from the gathering of a couple of hundred young men, who are interested in the work and proud to own their allegiance to Christ's cause. Meetings of this sort are frequently very helpful to parishes and also to the priests of the church, many of whom still stand in reed of instruction as to brotherhood methods. The meetings of the assembly should be held as frequently as possible and on a week day night. Some meetings should be for worship and some for conference and discussion. Addresses are better than sermons at these meetings. Two addresses are better than one, and also are better than sermons at these meetings. Two addresses are better than one, and also better than three. They should be brief, pithy and to the point. The best meetings are those that combine the conference and religious features with, perhaps, an intermission for dinner or tea between the two. The reading of these two papers was followed by a general discussion of the subjects. It was participated in by Mr. John P. Faure of New York and Rev. John Henry Hopkins of Kausas, and others.

The conference was closed with the benediction pronounced by Bishop Coleman.

Conferences at Noon. But with the adjournment at the noon hour of the general conference the work of

The principal matter of interest which came up during this hour was the report of the committee appointed to nominate members of the council, the governing body of the brotherhood.

D., St. Luke's, Salisbury, N. C.; John R. Mott, Students' Volunteer Movement, New York

The New Officers. The council which was elected this afternoon will hold a meeting, probably this evening, and it is a foregone conclusion that the following will be elected as the general officers of the brotherhood: President, Jas. L. Houghteling, St. James', Chicago; first vice president, G. Harry Davis, St. Luke's, Germantown, Philadelphia; second vice president, Silas McBee, Sewanee, Tenn.; treasurer, John P. Faure, Calvary, New York; general secretary, John W. Wood, St. George's New York; assistant secretary. St. George's, New York; assistant secretary, Carleton Montgomery.

Tomorrow's Services.

The services for tomorrow, in connection with the convention of the brotherhood, are of particular interest, not only to the delegates, but to the public generally. Especially is this true of the afternoon meeting at 3:30 o'clock, which will be held at Convention Hall. It will be presided over by Rt. Rev. T. U. Dudley, bishop of Kentucky. Rishop Dudley is one of the most tucky. Rishop Dudley is one of the most popular clergymen in the Episcopal Church, and every time that he has risen in the convention he has been greeted with enthusiastic applause by the delegates, and the meeting at which he presides is certain to prove of exceptional interest and value. His speech yesterday, in favor of holding the next convention in Louisville, was one of the strong elements that led to securing the gathering for Kentucky in 1895. The meeting tomorrow afternoon will not be a denominational meeting, but will be opened to everyone, and as there is plenty of room in Convention Hall, all who come of room in Convention Hall, all who come will be made heartly welcome. Among those who are to address the meeting are some of the best-known and most elo speakers in the Episcopal Church, and there will be undoubtedly a tremendous audience present to hear what they will have to say.

The program for the services tomorrow as follows:
7 a.m.—Holy communion in the Church of the Ascension, Christ Church, the Church of the Epiphany, Incarnation, St. Andrew's, St. John's and Tririty Church. 9:30 a.m.—Church of the Epiphany. Anniversary sermon by Rt. Rev. Davis Sessums, D.D., bishop of Louisiana.

Although the selection of the place for holding the next convention of the brotherhood is left to the discretion of the council, the recommendation of the convention is likely to carry the day and Louisville interested are invited to attend.

The Washington Libertil League meets every Sunday at 3 p.m., in Wilsdorfe Hall, 1915 P st. n.w.; open discussion, Subject tomorrow. "Is Mode a spiritualism Trust" Come. All welcome. Seats free.

During the business session of the con-But with the adjournment at the noon hour of the general conference the work of the morning was by no means completed, for the brotherhood at once divided up for several sectional conferences that were held in various parts of the building, in the main hall, in the galleries and in the rooms of the Metzerott building.

The delegates all separated and each went to the sectional conference whose particular branch of work was of most interest to him. The principal conferences were as follows: Chapter and local assembly officers, under the leadership of Jas. C. Sellers, West Chester, Pa.; traveling men, W. F. Stilz, St. Paul, parochial missions, Rev. Robert S. Barrett, D. D., general missioner, parochial missions society.

The Closing Session.

A large number of the members of the E Street Eaptist Church gathered in the lecture room last evening to enjoy what was termed the fall reunion. It proved to be a delightful occasion. The greetings were hearty, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed. The exercises began with a duet by Miss L. E. Elliott and Mrs. T. R. Riley. Mr. A. M. Clapp followed in a brief address, ir which he congratulated the church upon its prosperity and the pleasant relations existing between pastor and people. Miss Alcher sing a solo. Dr. S. H. Greene, pas-tor of Calvary Baptist Church, in a short speech, brought the greetings of his people, spoke of the wonderful history and the great increase in numbers of the Baptist denomination in the District of Columbia, congratulated the E Street Church upon its success, and prophesied increased prosperity in the years to come. Rev. Dr. Sanderlin, deputy third auditor of the treasury, also made an address, in which he spoke in a very happy manner of the great benefits re-sulting to church and state of unions, reunions and associations. Rev. Mr. Mulr fittingly replied to the remarks that had been made, and said that he owed whatever success that attended his ministry to the cordial and hearty support of his cordial and hearty support of his people, and he urged them to renewed zeal, and promised more vigor and earnestness in their service. The audience then arose and sang "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," after which the ladies of the church served re-freshments, and the remainder of the evening was spent in social enjoyment, The Yorktown Anniversary.

Arrangements have been completed for the meeting of the District Society of the Sons of the American Revolution at Welcker's on Friday evening, the 19th of this month, the one hundred and thirteenth anniversary of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis at Yoratown. As this is also the first meeting of the society for the winter season, a large attendance and general reunion of the members is expected. Eight union of the members is expected. Eight o'clock has been fixed for the hour of assembling. Addresses appropriate to the occasion will be delivered, among the speakers being Mr. Justice Brewer, Assistant Attorney General Conrad and President Gallaudet. Later in the evening luncheon will be served. The meeting will not be restricted to members of the society, as they will be allowed to bring guests, either ladies or gentlemen. Tickets for the occasion may be obtained from the members of the committee on meetings or at the hotel on committee on meetings or at the hotel on the evening of the meeting.

The Star and the City Post Office.
